TO WALK BY FAITH

We come to Christ and a new day begins. Yet the Lord's Day begins at evening, not morning (Gen. 1:5). It is here, as evening turns to night, that God teaches us to walk by faith. It is in this place - where we can hear but cannot see - that we learn to trust the promises of God. Dawn will come, beloved. When it does you will see that it was during the night that the Holy Spirit made you a true person of faith. The word He whispered to you in the darkness, that living word that saved you as you held it fast, you will proclaim in the light (Matt. 10:27). For what changed you will change others also.

PRAYER-MENTAL

Our call is to be a house of prayer for all nations. Consider the phrase “prayer for.” Jesus instructed us to “pray for” those who mistreat us. When Job “prayed for” his friends, God restored him. Again, we are to “pray for” the peace of Jerusalem and “pray for” each other to be healed. Paul says God desires all men to be saved, thus “prayers ... [should] be made on behalf of all men ... and all who are in authority” (1 Tim. 2:1-2). In truth, God does not want us judge-mental – He wants us prayer-mental.

AT HIS FEET

When I pray, I often begin with this simple prayer:
Holy Spirit, lead me into the presence of Jesus.

Lead me to where I hear His voice.

Guide me to where I am sitting at His feet, where He can correct me and, in His love, heal me.

HEAVEN ADVANCES

The good news is that hell would not be in such a frenzy if Heaven were not advancing (Rev. 12:12).

THE NEW MANTLE

Here is what I have discovered: just before the Lord releases a new mantle or anointing upon an individual, He will often “dis-mantle” that individual’s previous level of service. This dismantling may not feel good. We may pass through a season of brokenness. But if we keep faith during the process, the new mantle will come. When it does, you will have greater conformity to Christ and, thus, greater power.

DO YOU KNOW?

The world is watching how we relate to those who are morally wrong, even when we are biblically right. And they are watching to see if we sound like the Savior or like the Pharisees.

Yet there is one thing more crucial than how the world sees us, and that is how Christ sees us. He is watching what is happening to our hearts. He asks each of us a simple question: Do you know what you're becoming?

IT'S THE MAN

Remember, the way into the future
is not a plan,
it's the Man: Christ Jesus!
